Narberth Opens 2nd Half at Downingtown

Plays Riverton Here Sunday; Little Hope Seen for Pennant

DAVIS IS PESSIMISTIC

By JOHN MULLIGAN
With great determination—and we might add, quite a bit of new hope, Narberth's baseball warriors will take off on the trek which may or may not lead to the Main Line League second-half championship.

Manager Gene Davis' boys will travel to Downingtown to pry off the lid tomorrow. No league games are scheduled for Sunday, so the townsmen will clash with Riverton here.

Other games slated for tomorrow in the league are: Brookline, first-half champ, at Coatesville; Berwyn at West Phillies and Gladwyne at Malvern.

Rabid baseball rooters from the borough are becoming alarmed about the failure of their favorites to show anything. And incidentally the ball club is also becoming alarmed on noticing how the fans have failed to support their team. A new low for attendance was struck this season and the time is not far distant when Narberth will be playing only one twilight game a week.

Split Twin Bill

Having open dates for last weekend, the Davismen met Stonehurst on Saturday and Berwyn here a day later. Stonehurst defeated the locals, 5-4, but the defending champions came back strong on the Sabbath to spill Dan Redmond's gang, 7-4, in a well-played game. Players were slowed up considerably in both due to the intense heat.

Mickey Gavin contributed a triple in each game and also banged out a double in the Berwyn tilt. In the first game he shared lumber honors with the Ralston brothers when all got two hits.

Discussing the second-half race today, Skipper Davis said: "I don't know what we can do to get moving right. If we don't play better ball than we showed in the first half we'll finish in last place this time." Narberth ended the first-half marathon in fourth place.

"Some of the fans have offered suggestions," he continued with a deep frown. "One man, for instance, suggested that I bench some of them. That's all very well, but if I bench them who in the world am I going to put in their places? We haven't anybody any better than the ones we have in there."

"I think our main trouble is in the pitching. Other years we could get a short lead and hold it. We had the pitching then. Now the pitchers can't hold anything and no matter how good a team you have it won't look so hot with bad pitching. On the other hand, good pitching can make a poor team look good."

To Rebuild

In an effort to rebuild Davis is angling for the services of Joe McNally, of Roxborough. McNally is said to be a powerful slugger and a classy first-sacker.

George Gazella will be here for the remainder of the season, as will Johnny Jackson, former Phillies righthander, who hurled Narberth to the championship two years ago. Also there is a possibility that "Swede" Carlsen will remain in the fold. For a time it was believed that he would accompany the Penn A. C. team to the Olympics. Lack of funds may put an end to the plans.

"I guess our pitchers are beginning to give way," Davis opined. "The team will have to be rebuilt, but I can't see where we can do much in that line until next year."

Addition to Honor Roll

In the list of contributors to the Fourth of July Fund published in last week's OUR TOWN, the donation of the Horn & Hardart Baking Company of $5 was inadvertently omitted.

The Fourth of July Committee also reports that each one of the chain organizations operating in Narberth made a contribution to the Fireworks Fund.

Caldwell With Peace

J. Baird Caldwell, well-known Narberth realtor, is now associated with W. S. Peace, Upper Darby, whose organization is very active in the Main Line and other suburbs in the sale, rental and development of real estate.

Devotees of Ike Walton Numerous At Ranger Lodge; Boxing Popular

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of letters from Ranger Lodge at Casco, Maine.

By this time it is evident to both reader and author that Sam Read is no longer in Ranger Lodge. We miss his timely wit and his pungent puns, but more than those we miss Samuel "Parn" Read himself.

The camp has completed the first week of the season with every man and camper in first class condition. Harry Carl, our physician extraordinary, is more or less busy with his scissors and adhesive plaster, but the boys have been in camp long enough to count minor bruises and cuts as mere growing pains.

Most of us are used to the Maine woods by now, even though "civilization" is only a week in the past. Few of the boys stop to say "Excuse me" any more when they bump into a tree at night. Such things have become routine and expected.

The sailboat was launched today decked out with new camp colors of bright silver with scarlet lines. It will need a couple of days for the timbers to swell, but it will be seen with all wings spread, its nose plowing the billows before many winds have blown. Skipper Cro Ludlow has even bought a new sailor hat for the occasion.

Softball continues to run an even race in popularity with swimming.

The most ardent players are among the most competent. George Paine and Bob Brendlinger are two of the ringleaders in the softball league. Bob Warwick, our only representative from Wayne, plays as regularly as the game is in progress. Among the young boys, Howard McConnell, Charlie Dykes, "Rabbit" Narrigan, Harry Middleton, Bill Ryan and Rusty DeBurlo are stacking up as outstanding ball players.

The coming week will see a midget ball game with Camp Agawam, also a junior tennis match and a junior rifle match. Coach Bill Miller has not completed his lineup for the midget ball game to date, but the names of Dykes, Middleton, DeBurlo, McConnell, Ryan, Narrigan, etc., etc., are sure to be recognized in the box score.

Dana Cahoon has named Ross Collins, Gordon Clausen and Bobby Paine as three who will take part with others in the rifle match. Cro Ludlow, in charge of the tennis game, will likely name Henning Ludlow, Gordon Clausen and Dick Custer as starters.

If the weather is clear and promising, canoe trips and mountain climbing will get under way early this week. The first group of seniors will launch the canoes on Long Lake headed for Sebago, hug the shore for some ten miles and turn north into Panther Run for the chain of smaller lakes. Mt. Washington will hold its dome high above the heads of a few of the Rangers who will attempt to scale the head-wall over Tuckerman's Ravine.

All well and happy, thank you. More next week.

P. S.—Oh, by the way, mother, I need some spending money.

Depositors May Receive More From Merion Title

Many of the defunct Merion Title and Trust Company loans, once considered worthless, now may be collected, according to State Secretary of Banking Luther C. Harr. This would make additional bank assets available for distribution to depositors. The hope for collection is based on improved financial conditions among the trust company creditors.

Little hope, however, is held out for any payment being made on deposits at the former Counties Title and Trust Company of Ardmore.

Guardsmen at Camp

Among Main Line National Guardsmen with the Twenty-eighth Division, P. N. G., at Indiantown for three weeks' training, are: Sergeant George Mumma, Wynnewood; Private Edward Shea, Guy Mosteller, Clarence Clark, Narberth; James Blair and Aloysius McCarthy, Bala-Cynwyd; James McGovern, Wynnewood. All are members of the 103d Quartermasters Regiment.

Wins Three Scout Honors

Concert Rained Out

Owing to the rain last Friday the appearance of Margaret Harshaw, contralto, at the Robin Hood Dell concert was postponed until some time in August. The date will be announced later.

Lightning Strikes Twice

During the storm last Saturday lightning struck a tree in the 300 block of Grayling avenue, Narberth. A bolt also landed next door to a group of stores on the south side of Montgomery pike, near Old Lancaster road, Cynwyd.

Committee Chairman Tells Plans to Rotary Club

At the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club luncheon at the Overbrook Golf Club Tuesday, W. James Drennen, new vice-president of the club and chairman of the program committee, served as chairman of the meeting, the first under the administration of A. J. Esrey, new president of the organization.

Eugene H. Davis, chairman of the community service committee, told of plans of his group while Dr. Richard C. Mears was spokesman for the vocational service committee.

Speakers from Germany, Austria, Italy and France will be procured for meetings, Engle Taylor, chairman of the International service committee stated.

William S. Howard, sergeant-at-arms and chairman of the fellowship and attendance committee, discussed methods to keep the attendance up to a high standard and Dr. F. Munro Purse, new secretary of the club and publicity committee chairman, spoke on the work in his field.

Awards Given Scouts at Narberth Session

Board of Review and Court of Honor Hold Joint Meeting

4 BOYS DEMONSTRATE

The Board of Review and the Court of Honor for the Boy Scouts of the Main Line District were held Tuesday evening at the Narberth Presbyterian Church under the general direction of Ridsen Wenrick, scout executive for the Main Line, assisted by C. B. Clippsham, chairman for the Court of Honor, and W. F. Hogan, Jr., chairman for the Board of Review.

C. H. Woolmington welcomed the scouts and scouters. Four demonstrated their proficiency in scouting before the Board of Review to receive the ranks of second-class scouts. They were John Feiler, Benjamin Di Felice and Joseph Kelly, all of Rosemont Troop No. 2, and Arthur W. Walton, of Bala-Cynwyd Troop, No. 2.

In the Court of Honor, Mrs. W. A. Clementson, Jr., of the Jephtha Abbot Chapter, D. A. R., presented a medal to Geoffrey Sanders, of Rosemont Troop, No. 2, for eliminating the most number of tent caterpillar nests.

Frank H. Seely received the Fifteen Years' Veteran Award and also the Certificate of Good Appearance. The Ten Year Scout Award was presented to Russel Belfield, new scoutmaster of the Liberty Troop in Merion. John Burns, of Narberth Troop, No. 1, received the Five Year Scout Award. George H. Mahl was the recipient of the Commissioner's Certificate.

Merit badges were given to Scout James F. Jamison, who became a star scout; Scout Robert J. Hardie, of Ardmore Troop, No. 2, safety; Scoutmaster Russel Belfield, public health, personal health and swimming.

Narberth Business Council Will Publish Directory

At the July Narberth Council meeting Burgess John R. Hall presented a plan of the Narberth Business Council to publish a directory of borough business places, public officials and community organizations.

Mr. Hall suggested that perhaps council would like to have published in the directory some of the borough's regulations concerning parking, burning of rubbish and similar statutes. On recommendation of Clarence Kaecher, Finance Committee chairman, the matter was tabled.

Presbyterian Church Music

At the morning service of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, the adult choir will sing, "Soldiers of Christ, Arise!" by John Farm.

At the evening service the high school choir will sing, "Setting Sun," by William Baines.

The evening service will be conducted by young people who have been to Stonybrook, Long Island, at a Bible conference. Twenty-seven, who attended this conference from the church, will tell of their experiences.

Concert Rained Out

Owing to the rain last Friday the appearance of Margaret Harshaw, contralto, at the Robin Hood Dell concert was postponed until some time in August. The date will be announced later.

Merchants' Aid Asked to Keep Streets Clean

Business Men Asked Not to Sweep Rubbish Into Borough Gutters

TOWN BORROWS $5000.00

Better co-operation on the part of Narberth merchants in keeping borough streets clean was asked at the July meeting of Narberth council in the report of Highway Committee Chairman Robert F. Wood, read in Mr. Wood's absence by William H. Durbin, of the Highway Committee.

Following a reference to the fact that streets in the business district are cleaned three times a week, the report states:

"It frequently happens that when the merchants open their stores they sweep their own floors and their sidewalks out into the gutter, producing a littered appearance very soon after the street has been cleaned. If the merchants would collect their sweepings into their own rubbish receptacles, they would greatly improve the general appearance of the business districts every day."

During the month the highway department repaired the stone abutment near the bridge over Indian Creek in Narbrook Park with "a more permanent foundation than was previously there"; relocated the curb and sidewalk at the south corner of Haverford and Wynnewood avenues; dug a ditch on the west side of the unimproved section of Hampden avenue, just south of Price avenue. The latter was to relieve a bad drainage condition.

Various curb and sidewalk jobs were awarded to Frank Gioni, Frank Coradetti and J. J. Gibney.

Mr. Durbin, reporting for his Public Safety Committee, said that complaints had been received of boys making noise until late at night at the Haverford avenue corner nearest to the railroad station.

E. A. E. Palmquist, Narbrook Park, wrote that unless parking is stopped on Narbrook Park road during baseball games that he would have the Narbrook Park Association notify the State.

But three fires were reported for the month of June by Fire Chief Charles V. Noel. Only one causing damage, $25, was at the Narberth Station platform.

A question of repairing Lantwyn lane, a private road, was raised by Mr. Durbin, but was tabled until Highway Chairman Wood's return.

Finance Chairman Clarence Kaecher reported that Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold had collected all but $642.91 of the 1935 tax duplicate. Mr. Kaecher's resolution authorizing council to borrow $5000 from the Philadelphia National Bank as a temporary loan was passed.

Borough and Township Report Health Excellent

Not a single case of contagious disease has been reported in Narberth for the last six weeks, according to Health Officer George B. Suplee.

In Lower Merion a new low was reached last week when Township Health Officer Marvin E. Reynolds reported but two cases of whooping cough, one case of measles.

An estate left by Aaron B. Wainwright, Narberth, is to be distributed under a deed of trust, according to the terms of his will probated at Norristown. The deed of trust is dated January 23, 1933, the amount $146,500.

Mr. Wainwright was head of the A. B. Wainwright Co., of Philadelphia, which specializes in the nail business.

Testator gives Rebekah M. Wainwright, widow, furniture, automobiles, and personal effects, and $5000 outright. He gives small bequests to relatives and friends, and then directs his executor, The Pennsylvania Company, to liquidate his holdings in his firm. The estate is then given to an executor for distribution under the trust. The terms of this agreement are not contained in the will.

Lightning Strikes Twice

During the storm last Saturday lightning struck a tree in the 300 block of Grayling avenue, Narberth. A bolt also landed next door to a group of stores on the south side of Montgomery pike, near Old Lancaster road, Cynwyd.

Editorial Comment

Conshohocken is planning to have a swimming pool to cost about $35,000 and accommodate 500 bathers. That borough's plan calls for council to appropriate half the sum needed with the other half to be raised by public subscription. A similar idea might well be projected by Lower Merion's commissioners and by Narberth's councilmen. Local residents, except those fortunate ones who have private pools, must drive far to enjoy a dip, then frequently find the tanks filled to overflowing.

Montgomery has been a key county in State elections on several occasions, notably, in more recent times, in the Pinchot and Vare campaigns. This year Montgomery County's vote certainly will have an important bearing on the Pennsylvania returns, and quite possibly on the national Presidential result. For all preliminary polls to date list rock-ribbed Republican Pennsylvania as a doubtful State. So, while in other election years Montgomery's vote was just that many more thousands added to a G. O. P. majority insofar as the electoral college was concerned, this fall may see it swing a close contest, with Pennsylvania possibly the State that decides who will be the next President. Montgomery, of course, will go Republican. The question is, by what margin?

Democratic internal troubles have weakened the party in this county. The various fuses kicked up by Dennis O'Neill, Wellington A. Roschberry, Joseph P. McKelvey and Ralph J. Rinalducci, to name a few, surely must have lowered the total voting strength for Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Farley. It will be interesting to watch to what extent Charles D. McAvoy, the county leader, can do a repair job before November. Mr. McAvoy may be likened to Vice-President Garner in that both are first, Democrats, second, Roosevelt followers, and third (if at all), New Deal men. Add to the similarity, both will plug their best to put across a winner.

trict to be used for a tea room, will be of great interest to all Main Line residents. The Board's ruling subsequently was upheld by Judge Harold G. Knight of the county court. The hearing will present an array of Private Rights versus Community Privacy, with a fine point as to whether the participants must always abide by the referee's decision.

Local Movies

"Mr. Deeds" at Narberth: Fight Pictures Coming

Now playing at the Narberth Theatre are Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," delightful story about a small-town poet who inherits money and has original ideas about disposing of it. "Mickey's Grand Opera" is on the program too.

The ludicrous manner in which one recent-rich family faced the Depression is told in "Three Corners Moon," a comedy that is brought back by popular request. The cast includes Claudette Colbert, Richard Arlen and Mary Boland. It will be shown Monday and Tuesday, along with an added attraction of great interest—the official pictures of the sensational fight between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling.

Wednesday, Narberth's award night, Walter Huston is coming in "Rhodes," a magnificent story of the empire builder and his life work in South Africa.

The rest of the week "Private Number" will prove very much worth seeing. Its cast includes Robert Taylor and Loretta Young.

"Under Two Flags" at Egyptian: "Things to Come" Next Attraction

"Under Two Flags" is now at the Egyptian—bringing together Ronald Colman, Claudette Colbert, Rosalind Russell and Victor McLaglen in a glamorous, exciting drama with all the sweep and power of Ouida's unforgettable novel. Also on the program is Disney's "Mickey's Grand Opera."

"Things to Come," H. G. Wells' British-Gaumont fantasy of the future, will be shown in Cynwyd Monday and Tuesday.

Bank Night is still making for a heavy attendance at the Egyptian Thursday evenings. This popular pastime, which has been sweeping the country in the past year, has intrigued the fancy of the entire Main Line, with its dramatic suspense that reaches its high moment at 9 P. M. Thursdays.

For next Wednesday and Thursday, the Egyptian will screen Booth Tarkington's hilarious masterpiece of small town romance, "Gentle Julia," starring Jane Withers, Tom Brown, Marsha Hunt and Jackie Searl.

"Trouble for Two," ending the week, is based on Stevenson's "Suicide Club"; it's a romantic comedy-drama starring Rosalind Russell, Robert Montgomery and Frank Morgan.

Water Works

Conquered Yellow Fever

During the summer of 1793, Yellow Fever ravaged the city of Philadelphia. Spreading terror and distress throughout the city, the dreaded disease wiped out nearly one-sixth of the population.

That was a summer of intense heat and drought. People had to go long distances for water, storing their scanty supplies in buckets, casks and cisterns. It was not then known that these open water containers furnished breeding places for mosquitoes, among them that particular mosquito whose deadly bite transmitted Yellow Fever . . . the Stegomyia.

Benjamin Franklin saw some connection between an unstable water supply and disease. He advocated a plan to bring the water of the Wissahickon Creek into the city and distribute it in pipes. When a public water supply was finally installed the Yellow Fever epidemics ceased.

The importance of a controlled supply of pure water was again demonstrated at the time of the building of the Panama Canal. Americans did not attempt any construction work until a modern water works had first been installed.

A dependable supply of pure water is the foundation of public health.

After getting off to a bad start early in the season, Cynwyd Juniors are now playing bang-up baseball. Last Friday's victim of the Juniors was Ashland, shut out in a four-inning-rained-out game, 7-0. Maxwell made three hits in the abbreviated contest.

Tom Ottey, who placed fourth in the 10,000 meters event in the 1932 Olympics, will not be with the U. S. contingent this year at Berlin. Last Sunday at Randall's Island, Ottey, former Lower Merion star, failed to finish in the 5,000 meters event.

Anne Page, Merion Cricket Club, has returned from England. Her injury at the Wimbledon tournament, reported as broken arm, is a dislocated elbow. She expects to compete in the Seabright invitation tennis tournament this month.

West Manayunk's Twilight Leaguers apparently can't stand prosperity. Just as they were figured a first-half championship certainty, their slump started. Friday night Gladwyne won from the Yunkers, 3-0.

Norman Bramall, Cynwyd Club, last Saturday played against Gabe Lavine in the final round for the West Jersey open tennis trophy, lost, went to the clubhouse, collapsed from the heat.

Scoring six runs on five hits, Devon C. beat Narberth Boys' Club, who could make but five tallies on eleven safeties.

Ralph C. Stewart
Funeral services for Ralph C. Stewart, 57, late of Warwick road, Wynnewood, were held yesterday morning, with interment at Woodland Cemetery.

Stewart, Philadelphia. He was a charter member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity at the University of Pennsylvania, chairman of the Legal Committee of the Kennel Club of America for many years, a thirty-second degree Mason of Solomon Lodge, No. 114, and a member of the Philadelphia Bar Association.

M. L. Phones Up 400
